Write a single digit number in each corner of the big square.
Between each pair of numbers, write in the difference between them.
Carry on working towards the middle.
What do you find?
You may need to add extra squares in the middle.